

LogPoint next-gen SIEM solution

Creating business value

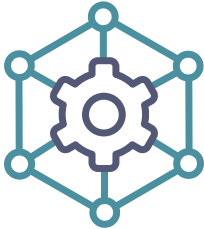

Cybersecurity

Our security analytics engine allows users to easily identify attacks, immediately respond and effectively report.

Compliance

We streamline data monitoring and security awareness to ensure comprehensive compliance with today's ever-changing regulatory requirements.

IT operation

We drive operational efficiencies by supporting a more proactive approach to understanding your network and its connection to the world.

Business analytics

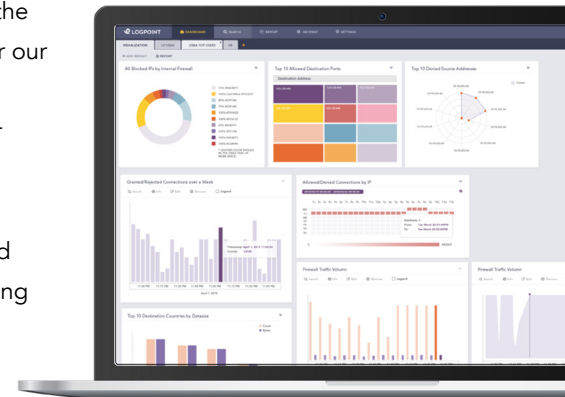

Our analytics engine transforms structured data from internal business applications and correlates them with the intelligence within LogPoint.

Meeting our customer's needs

With a large variety of SIEM solutions to choose from, you need to ensure you select the one that best fits your business' needs. Here's what makes us unique:

- Ease of use: Our unique taxonomy makes it easy to learn using LogPoint, which enables lightning-fast analytics and rich reporting without requiring an advanced skillset.
- Cost management: Our license is based on the number of nodes, so there's no extra cost related to the growth of the company's data volume or how many events per second you actually receive.
- Unmatched certification: Our EAL3+ certification enables customers with the most stringent security requirements place their trust in us and our reputation for superior security.
- Customer-centric: The LogPoint ecosystem is built on a customer-first culture, where going the extra mile to solve problems and add value for our customers is our main calling.
- UEBA: Helping our customers prioritizing their precious time to focus on abnormal behavior that would otherwise be very time consuming to investigate. The UEBA presents the required contextual information to the customer, enabling faster and better-informed decisions.

About us

In today's digital world, riddled with alert fatigue and a constant need for market adjustments – a solution that simplifies complexity, and brings customers greater contextual awareness is essential. LogPoint is the solution - that works for anyone, anywhere and at any time.

Our offices are located throughout Europe, North America and in the Far East. Our passionate employees throughout the world are achieving outstanding results through consistent customer value-creation and process excellence.

Don't just take our word for it, our more than 500 customers agree.

www.logpoint.com